SCIENCE FAIR

Last Tuesday, Moana held their Science fair.

Students worked together to ensure their experiments had a question to be answered, several trials and testings took place and then their findings were shared.

Everyone should feel delighted with the final results. Congratulations to all winners and everybody who took part!.

DUFFY BOOKS ROLE MODEL ASSEMBLY

Last Thursday we held our third Duffy Books Assembly where each class was rewarded with a full set of books (one for each student). Our role model for this assembly was TV3 weather lady Kanoa Lloyd, who spoke to the children about the importance of reading and the many benefits reading has in our daily lives.

TRIP TO THE STARDOME

On Tuesday Room 2 and 4 went to the stardome. We all had fun learning all about space and it's wonderful features. When we got there, we had a talk with a man named David. David taught us everything we needed to know about the solar system. After that important discussion, the stardome gave us some ipad's for a complicated quiz. People were walking around desperately trying to find the correct answers. A few minutes later, we had to stop because we were moving onto our next inspiring adventure. We went into a room that was shaped like a dome. The whole thing felt so real, it was about aliens visiting other planets for their vacation, the movie was awesome. Next we went on the bus and enjoyed the trip back. - by Candice Room 4
